Re: Key Stage 4 Target Setting 2017/18

Over the last two years there have been significant changes to the educational landscape. GCSEs and A levels were reformed and there has been significant changes to the assessment framework. As a school, we have responded to these changes by remodelling the school curriculum and developing a new assessment framework, using the new 9-1 numerical grading flight paths from Key Stage 2 to 4. A*-G grades will remain for Year 11 Sociology and Business Studies only as part of the legacy GCSE qualifications. From 2019, all qualifications will be awarded a 9-1 numerical grade. A grade 4 is similar to a grade C at GCSE and a grade 9 will account for the top 3% of highest performers nationally.

During the summer term all parents/carers received a copy of the school's assessment framework (Assessment without Levels booklet). All staff have received training and work will continue throughout the year to develop the new assessment programme. The assessment framework will also be explained to students during assemblies and via curriculum areas during the autumn term.

To support the rigour of the new assessment framework, students will be set aspirational targets. Since September 2016 we will be using ALPS (Advanced Level Performance System) to set targets against a national data set (from the DfE), based on KS2 point scores and subject by subject value added measures. We have used ALPs at Key Stage 5 for many years, which has transformed the outcomes for students. Ensuring students are successfully challenged, to make better than expected progress, will maintain high standards of aspiration, inspiration and motivation. The minimum expected grades are set at the 75th percentile, based on the full national dataset from the DfE.

The table shows each KS2 band along with the minimum expected grade and aspirational target grade. At KS2 decimalised fine grade KS2 scores are used and pupils are banded using the sub-levels. Once national KS2 data is available for current Y6 pupils ALPs will issue a briefing paper showing equivalencies.

To ensure the highest standards are maintained, your daughter will be set aspirational targets for the year ahead. Targets are set from the progress your daughter will make at the end of Key Stage 2 through to the end of Key Stage 4. Teaching staff will continue to review targets, set throughout the year, in order to support your daughter achieving her aspirational targets.

Please see below your daughter's targets for 2017/18:

Starting point from Key Stage 2

Subject	KS2 score

Mathematics

(Insert student's name) aspirational targets (minimum expected) for the academic year 2017/18 are:

Numerical target grade (9-1) Minimum Expected (75 th percentile)	Numerical target grade (9-1) Aspirational (90 th percentile)

We recommend a minimum of six hours per week of homework and independent study. Support, intervention and mentoring will be provided throughout the year, in order to support and challenge your daughter.

Please do not hesitate to contact school if you require any further information or clarification about the new assessment framework and/or target setting procedures. Information will also be published on the school website www.stjulies.org.uk (Assessment section) and please also feel free to review the ALPs website www.alps-va.co.uk.

May I take this opportunity to thank you for your continued support of your daughter's education at St Julie's Catholic High School.

Yours sincerely
